

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air the one-sided anti-Kerry documentary "Stolen Honor" days before the election is a clear violation of the law to serve public interest.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, however, when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
